The month of May

Answer the questions about May in your work book. You can use the calendar to help you.

1. If January is the first month of the year, which month of the year is May?
2. What day is 1st May on this year?
3. Can you find out which day will be celebrated as May Day this year?
4. How many days are there in May?
5. Which other months have the same number of days as May?
6. How many week days are there in May this year?
7. On which day will it be 28th May?
8. Which month comes two months before May? What is celebrated in that month?
9. What season is May in?
10. Ask your friends in class when their birthday is. Make a list of people whose birthday falls in May.
11. How many Fridays fall in May?
12. How many months is it until your birthday?

Research on the internet and find out if any famous people have a birthday in May.

Can you put the months of the year in alphabetical order? List them in your book.
May Day is thought to mark the end of ________________ . It is associated with springtime, ________________ and fertility. In the Roman Catholic church, May Day is often called Mary’s Day and is a celebration of the ________________ Mary. In political terms, May Day signifies the work of the Labour party in its struggle to ensure that working class people only worked for ________________ a day. Throughout ________________, May Day has been a day of festivities. In the United Kingdom, May Day falls on the first Monday in May and is marked with a ________________ holiday. Traditionally, May Day celebrations include morris ________________, offering gifts of flowers and sweets in May baskets, and village fêtes. Maypole dancing is a very popular event. A large wooden ________________ is adorned with coloured ribbons and children weave them into patterns as they dance.
In the shapes, write all the words that could be associated with May. Add new shapes if you need them.