

Ordering – Jack and the Beanstalk from Roald Dahl's Revolting Rhymes

Cut these strips out and stick them into your book in the correct order.

As Jack's mother had recently bathed she climbed the beanstalk however, she wasn't clean enough. The giant smelled her and ate her.

The bean sprouted and then started to grow into a beanstalk.

Feeling scared Jack went back down the beanstalk and told his mother. She blamed him because he hadn't taken a bath, which meant that the Giant could smell him.

Deciding that the only way to get past the giant was to remove the smell Jack had a bath using lots of soap.

Jack's mother was furious with him because he sold the cow for just one bean.

As the beanstalk got taller Jack realized that each leaf was made of solid gold.

He stole so much gold from the Giant that he became a millionaire and resolved to have a bath every day in future.

Jack's mother said that they need money and he must sell the cow.

Jack climbed the huge beanstalk and crept past the giant.

Straight away Jack climbed the beanstalk but when he reached the top he heard the Giant's booming voice.

Ordering – Jack and the Beanstalk from Roald Dahl's Revolting Rhymes

Cut these strips out and stick them into your book in the correct order.

Jack's Mum climbed the beanstalk because she thought that she was clean but the Giant ate her.

The beanstalk started to grow. The leaves were gold.

The Giant could smell Jack because he was dirty so Jack went down.

Jack had a bath so that he didn't smell.

Jack's mother was cross because he sold the cow for just one bean.

He stole lots of gold from the Giant.

Jack's mother said he must sell the cow.

Jack climbed the beanstalk and crept past the giant.

Jack climbed the beanstalk but when he reached the top he heard the Giant's voice.